Matters for Discussion

Proposal I (Proposed by the board of directors)

Summary: To handle the project of cash-refunding capital reduction

Explanation:

1. For adjusting capital structure and enhancing the return on shareholders' equity, the Company proposes to reduce capital by refunding cash to shareholders.

2. It is planned to reduce 20% of equity, which is going to eliminate 37,690,434 shares and refund a total of NT$376,904,340 to shareholders. After capital reduction, the paid-in-capital will be NT$1,507,617,360, and the number of listed ordinary shares after capital reduction will be 150,761,736 shares.

3. Based on the total number of issued shares in the preceding paragraph, it is estimated that the number of per thousand shares will be reduced by 200 shares (i.e., 800 new shares for per thousand shares), which will be calculated based on the number of shares held by the shareholders as recorded in the shareholders' registers as of the "record date of the capital reduction and share replacement", and the reduced capital stock will be refunded in full in cash in accordance with the proportion of shareholdings of the shareholders, calculated up to the nearest dollar (with the amount below the nearest dollar rounded down).

4. The new shares issued in exchange for capital reduction will be issued without physical substance and have the same rights and obligations as the original shares. If the number of shares is less than one after the capital reduction, shareholders will be entitled to receive cash payments (offsetting the transfer fee for the transfer of shares from the capitalization transfer account) calculated on a pro rata basis based on the closing price of the shares on the last trading day of the stock exchange prior to the date of the capital reduction and shares replacement, and calculated up to the amount of NT$1 (amounts are rounded up to the nearest dollar.), and it is proposed that the shareholders' meeting should authorize the Chairman to approach certain persons to take up the offer at the closing price.

5. Upon the approval of this proposal in the Shareholders' Meeting and its submission to the competent authorities for effective reporting, it is proposed that the Annual Shareholders' Meeting shall authorize the Chairman of the Board of Directors to set a record date for the capital reduction and a record date for the capital-reduction and share replacement. In the event of any subsequent change in the Company's share capital that may affect the total number of outstanding shares, the capital reduction ratio and the amount of refund per share, or in the event of any amendment to the laws and regulations, approval by the competent authorities, or in response to any other changes in the objective circumstances, it is intended to submit a proposal to the Annual Shareholders' Meeting for authorization to be given by the Chairman of the Board of Directors to deal with the matter at his/her sole discretion.

Supplementary note: the following is in response to the letter dated March 25, 2025 from the Securities and Futures Investors Protection Center requesting to explain with regards to the cash refunding capital reduction proposal.

- (1) The reason, necessity, and reasonableness of the cash-refunding capital reduction: For adjusting capital structure and enhancing the return on shareholders' equity, the Company proposes to reduce capital by refunding cash to shareholders to enhance overall financial and capital utilization efficiency and strengthen the value of shareholders' investment. The Company has sufficient cash, and the capital reduction will not affect normal working capital requirement; the overall planning is necessary and reasonable.

- (2) The source of funds for the cash-refunding capital reduction and the impacts of the cash-refunding capital reduction on the Company's finance, normal business operation, and the stability of capital structure: the proposed 20% capital reduction by cash refunds this time is expected to return approximately NT$380 millions to shareholders, and all of which will be paid by our own funds. There is no need to borrow, and the cash refunds will also not affect our daily working capital deployment. According to the Company's consolidated financial reports for the fourth quarter of 2024, we have cash and cash equivalents amounted to about NT$2.58 billion dollars. The Company has sufficient cash on hand, so this capital reduction by cash refunds has no significant impacts on the Company's finance, normal business operation and the stability of the Company's capital structure.
- (3) Whether the Company has any plan to raise capital or to issue new shares as stock dividend in the year of Shareholders' Meeting and in the coming year, and the necessity and reasonableness: the Company considers the most appropriate capital utilization plans according to the overall operation needs, industrial trends, and capital market conditions, and currently the Company has no plans to handle capital raise or new shares issuance as stock dividend in the year of 2025 and 2026.

2024 Operation Report

Looking back to 2024, global economic environment was filled with challenges, especially when we see the market demand slowed due to the pressure on the consumer market caused by continuous high-interest rate policy in our key North American market. Nevertheless, the Company always adheres to a flexible and customer-oriented business strategy, and with a stable team operation, we continue to promote product innovation and market expansion, so as to ensure that the Company is able to grasp growth opportunities in the changing environment and, for a further step, to enhance market competitiveness.

The Company's 2024 operation results are stated as below:

(I) Review the implementation of Business Plan

Taiwan Fu Hsing's consolidated operating sales in 2024 was NT$8,039,380 thousand, a decrease of 11% from 2023; however, the gross margin increased about 1%, thanks to the depreciation of New Taiwan Dollars and Renminbi, weakened key metal price including stainless steel and iron, that offset the adverse effect of declined sales revenue. Other than that, strong US dollars at the end of 2024 increased foreign exchange gain, so the non-operating revenue and expenditures increased about 105%. In 2024, net income attributable to owners of the parent amounted to NT$909,515 thousand, representing a decrease of approximately 4% from the previous year.

(IV)Research and Development

The Company always regards R&D and technological innovation as our core competitiveness. In the year of 2024, we invested substantial resources in computerization, diversification, and green innovation to develop products with more competitive strength.

1.The trend of Computerization (The E-trend): As the market for electronic locks continues to grow, a variety of overlapping features are being applied to electronic locks, and the trend enables electronic locks to move more towards consumer electronics and relying more on cloud-based platforms to provide intelligent software services. We have also invested in the development of our own cloud platform, which can be integrated with mainstream cloud systems such as Amazon and Google in the future, and we are committed to providing a smart lock experience with both security and convenience.

2. The trend of Diversification: In terms of design, we actively use new materials and processes and develop new shapes for better aesthetics, durability and protective properties. In terms of surface treatment, by sophisticated surface treatment technology, we provide a variety of appearance choices, including classic metal texture and modern matte coating, to create both fashionable and practical products to meet the style and needs of different consumers.

3. The trend of Green Innovation : Environmental awareness has become the mainstream of the market. We actively introduce recyclable and highly durable eco-materials, promote plastic-free packaging, and adopt low-carbon manufacturing technologies to reduce the environmental burden during the entire product life cycle and to fulfill our goal of sustainable development.

To look into the year ahead, our main operation directions will focus on:

1.The construction of our new factory in Thailand

The construction of our new factory in Chon Buri Province, Thailand has begun, and the new factory is expected to complete construction and start trial-testing in the fourth quarter in 2025. The new factory, after putting into operation, will significantly promote production capabilities and further enhance the competitiveness in market expansion.

2.Agilely adjust production strategy to cope with global tariff wars

There is growing uncertainties over tariff policies following intensified global trade frictions. We will adopt even more agile manufacturing model and make full use of advantages of our production sites around the world to reduce impacts of the tariff wars and ensure a stable supply chain, as well as optimize our cost structure.

3.Strengthen industrial safety management

The recent successive industrial safety incidents have aroused market concern over industrial safety. Taiwan Fu Hsing, for a long time, follows laws and regulations to carry out industrial safety management and even goes a step further to implement a comprehensive 6S management (sort, set in order, shine, standardize, sustain, safety), through even stricter inspectional mechanism to eliminate potential risks and ensure employees' safety and production stability.

4. Patent strategic layouts and innovative R&Ds

The external environment is full of challenges, but even so the Company still keeps expanding investments in R&D to maintain our leading strength in the industry. In 2024, we submitted a total of 62 patent applications in major manufacturing locations and markets, among which also included innovations in key manufacturing procedures that are able to effectively reduce production costs. In addition, we will actively expand the application of IoT technology in electronic locks with the expectation to enhance our market competitiveness in smart lock market.

This year, for rewarding our shareholders for their support of the Company, we have increased the amount of cash dividend to demonstrate our commitment in the Company's stable growth through a more specific shareholder return policy. Looking ahead, we will continue to optimize our operating performance to achieve mutual benefits and prosperity in corporate development, social responsibility, employee welfare, and customer relations. The International Monetary Fund (IMF) anticipates the global economic growth in 2025 can reach 3.2%, and the directorate-General of Budget, Accounting and Statistics, the Executive Yuan, R.O.C. also estimates that Taiwan's annual economic growth rate this year will be 3%. Despite optimistic market forecasts, the Company will continue to respond prudently to the global economic variables and continue to strengthen our financial health and market competitiveness to ensure long-term stable development.

Basis of Audit Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with the Regulations Governing Financial Statement Audit and Attestation Engagements of Certified Public Accountants and Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the parent company only financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the Republic of China, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. Based on our audits and the report of other auditors, we believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgement, were of most significance in our audit of the Company's 2024 parent company only financial statements. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the parent company only financial statements as a whole and, in forming our opinion thereon, we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matters for the Company's 2024 parent company only financial statements are stated as follows:

Cut-off on export sales recognition

Description

Please refer to Note 4(26) for accounting policies on revenue recognition.

The Company is primarily engaged in export. The sales revenue should be recognised when the entity has transferred to the buyer the control of the goods based on the terms of sales orders, contracts or other agreements. As the procedures for the timing of revenue recognition involves checking of sales situation and relevant documents, and those procedures were performed manually, it may have a significant effect on the appropriateness of revenue recognition near the end of the reporting period. Thus, we consider the cut-off of export sales revenue recognition as a key audit matter.

How our audit addressed the matter

We performed the following audit procedures on the above key audit matter:

- A. We understood, assessed and tested the design and the execution of internal controls on revenue recognition; and
- B. We performed cut-off tests on export sales revenue for a certain period around balance sheet date, verified corroboration of sales revenue recognition, assessed the timing of revenue recognition based on trade terms to ensure the appropriateness of sales revenue recognition.

Allowance for Inventory Valuation Loss

Description

Please refer to Note 4(12) for accounting policies on inventory valuation, Note 5 for the uncertainty of accounting estimates and assumptions applied on inventory valuation, and Note 6(5) for details of inventory valuation.

The Company recognised inventories at the lower of cost and net realisable value. As there are many types of inventory, the net realisable value which was used in the individual identification and valuation of obsolete or damage inventory, involved subjective judgement and uncertainty of estimation. Thus, we consider the allowance for inventory valuation losses as a key audit matter.

How our audit addressed the matter

We performed the following audit procedures on the above key audit matter:

We assessed the reasonableness of provision policies and procedures on allowance for inventory valuation losses, including inventory clearance, the reasonableness of obsolete inventory, and the consistency of accounting estimates; and

We verified that the information on the inventory valuation loss statement was consistent with its policies, randomly checked individual inventory number and inventory clearance, and then assessed the appropriateness of allowance for inventory valuation losses.

Other Matters - The report of other independent accountants

We did not audit the financial statements of certain investments accounted for under the equity method which were audited by other auditors. Therefore, our opinion expressed herein, insofar as it relates to the amounts included in respect of these associates, is based solely on the reports of the other auditors. The balance of these investments accounted for under the equity method amounted to NT$84,405 thousand and NT$70,352 thousand, constituting 1% of the total assets as at December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively, and the comprehensive income recognised from associates and joint ventures accounted for under the equity method amounted to NT$23,953 thousand and NT$11,980 thousand, constituting 2% and 1%, respectively, of the total comprehensive income for the years then ended.

Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these parent company only financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China, we exercise professional judgement and professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

1. Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the parent company only financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
2. Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the parent company only financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
5. Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the parent company only financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the parent company only financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
6. Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Company to express an opinion on the parent company only financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the parent company only financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

To the Board of Directors and Shareholders of Taiwan Fu Hsing Industrial Co., Ltd.

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of Taiwan Fu Hsing Industrial Co., Ltd. and subsidiaries (the "Group") as at December 31, 2024 and 2023, and the related consolidated statements of comprehensive income, of changes in equity and of cash flows for the years then ended, and notes to the consolidated financial statements, including a summary of material accounting policies.

In our opinion, based on our audits and the report of other auditors (please refer to the Other matter section), the accompanying consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of the Group as at December 31, 2024 and 2023, and its consolidated financial performance and its consolidated cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and the International Financial Reporting Standards, International Accounting Standards, IFRIC Interpretations, and SIC Interpretations that came into effect as endorsed by the Financial Supervisory Commission.

Basis of Audit Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with the Regulations Governing Financial Statement Audit and Attestation Engagements of Certified Public Accountants and Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' responsibilities for the audit of the consolidated financial statements section of our report. We are independent of the Group in accordance with the Norm of Professional Ethics for Certified Public Accountant of the Republic of China, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. Based on our audits and the report of other auditors, we believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgement, were of most significance in our audit of the Group's 2024 consolidated financial statements. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole and, in forming our opinion thereon, we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Key audit matters for the Group's 2024 consolidated financial statements are stated as follows:

Cut-off on export sales recognitionDescription

Please refer to Note 4(28) for accounting policies on revenue recognition.

The Group is primarily engaged in export. The sales revenue should be recognised when the entity has transferred to the buyer the control of the goods based on the terms of sales orders, contracts or other agreements. As the procedures for the timing of revenue recognition involves checking of sales situation and relevant documents, and those procedures were performed manually, it may have a significant effect on the appropriateness of revenue recognition near the end of the reporting period. Thus, we consider the cut-off of export sales revenue recognition as a key audit matter.

How our audit addressed the matter

We performed the following audit procedures on the above key audit matter:

- A. We understood, assessed and tested the design and the execution of internal controls on revenue recognition; and
- B. We performed cut-off tests on export sales revenue for a certain period around balance sheet date, verified corroboration of sales revenue recognition, assessed the timing of revenue recognition based on trade terms to ensure the appropriateness of sales revenue recognition.

Allowance for Inventory Valuation LossDescription

Please refer to Note 4(13) for accounting policies on inventory valuation, Note 5 for the uncertainty of accounting estimates and assumptions applied on inventory valuation, and Note 6(5) for details of inventory valuation.

The Group recognised inventories at the lower of cost and net realisable value. As there are many types of inventory, the net realisable value which was used in the individual identification and valuation of obsolete or damage inventory, involved subjective judgement and uncertainty of estimation. Thus, we consider the allowance for inventory valuation losses as a key audit matter.

How our audit addressed the matter

We performed the following audit procedures on the above key audit matter:

- A. We assessed the reasonableness of provision policies and procedures on allowance for inventory valuation losses, including inventory clearance, the reasonableness of obsolete inventory, and the consistency of accounting estimates; and
- B. We verified that the information on the inventory valuation loss statement was consistent with its policies, randomly checked individual inventory number and inventory clearance, and then assessed the appropriateness of allowance for inventory valuation losses.

Other Matters - The report of other independent accountants

We did not audit the financial statements of certain subsidiaries which were audited by other auditors. Therefore, our opinion expressed herein, insofar as it relates to the amounts included in respect of these subsidiaries, is based solely on the reports of the other auditors. Total assets of these subsidiaries amounted to NT$104,477 thousand and NT$95,555 thousand, constituting 1.08% and 0.99% of the consolidated total assets as at December 31, 2024 and 2023, respectively, and the operating revenue amounted to NT$17,701 thousand and NT$12,287 thousand, constituting 0.22% and 0.14% of the consolidated total operating revenue for the years then ended, respectively.

Other Matter - Individual Financial Statements

We have audited and expressed an unqualified opinion with other matter section on the parent company only financial statements of Taiwan Fu Hsing Industrial Co., Ltd. as at and for the years ended December 31, 2024 and 2023.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with the Regulations Governing the Preparation of Financial Reports by Securities Issuers and the International Financial Reporting Standards, International Accounting Standards, IFRIC Interpretations, and SIC Interpretations that came into effect as endorsed by the Financial Supervisory Commission, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Group's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance, including the audit committee, are responsible for overseeing the Group's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing of the Republic of China, we exercise professional judgement and professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control.

Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.

Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Group's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.

Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the group audit. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.
